COURSE COMPETENCY

COMPETENCY TITLE

Agile – Product Owner

COMPETENCY STATEMENT

Product Owners drive the project to its end destination, by establishing requirements and priorities, creating an efficient pathway, and avoiding roadblocks along the way.

COMPETENCY DESCRIPTION

Increasingly, practitioners are using Agile as a technique for managing successful projects, reflecting its importance in the industry's marketplace. Agile represents an iterative approach to project planning and delivery that allows teams to readily adapt to change while maintaining transparency to stakeholders and project team members. Unlike traditional plan-driven methods, Agile methods encourage face-to-face communication with peers, the contribution of team members in decision making processes, and shared ownership of artifacts among team members. This competency reflects the Product Owner's critical role in the Agile ecosystem of planning projects, supporting the project team, and liaising with stakeholders towards the successful delivery of incremental sprints that build towards a complete project.
