FACP9101 Basic Life Support CPR

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Despite important advances in prevention, sudden cardiac arrest remains a leading cause of death in Canada. Basic Life Support (BLS) is the foundation for saving lives after cardiac arrest. You will learn and practice the skills of high-quality cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) for victims of all ages, both as a single rescuer and as a member of a multi-rescuer team. These skills enable you to recognize cardiac arrest, activate the emergency response system early and respond quickly and confidently, giving victims the best chance of survival. This course is required for Practical Nurse Program clinical placements and recommended for Health Care Aide Program clinical placements.

Online Exam Proctoring:

Examinations for this course may require proctoring through an online proctoring service. Online proctoring enables online exam taking within a controlled and monitored environment, thereby enhancing academic integrity. Online proctoring may occur through a variety of methods, including but not limited to:

a. live online proctoring where a remote invigilator authenticates identity and observes completion of an exam using specialized software and recordings;
b. automated proctoring where the exam session is recorded and AI (artificial intelligence) analyzed;
c. browser lockdown that limits access to other applications, websites, copying, printing, screen capture and other functions; or
d. a combination of both live/automated proctoring and browser lockdown.

Course instructors will review recordings, analyses, and data obtained through online proctoring for academic integrity infractions. It is the student's responsibility to meet the technical, software, location, and identity verification requirements necessary to enable online proctoring.
